Applying for job vacancy of 'Developer'
7Vals

RESPECTED RECRUITMENT MANAGER

Despite coming from a pure economics background, I was able to set an example for others in my university that one could excel in any field he puts his mind to. After becoming the youngest teaching assistant of graduate level courses in computer sciences and scoring the highest in programming courses relative to other science students, I was able to distinguish myself from other peers in my university.

Now where does 7Vals come in? Everyone dreams of joining a company that takes care of the individual's growth, provides learning opportunities, and maintains a competitive yet healthy environment around so that employees can work with comfort and maximize their efficiency by delivering the best they have. Without a doubt, 7Vals is one of the companies leading the chart. Moreover, the global outreach of 7Vals is also one of its selling factors that have pushed me to apply for it. Working with one of the leading firms across the globe will help me the gain the exposure I need.

Furthermore, with passion being one of the core values of this company, I believe that I would be a perfect fit in that aspect. I would like to define myself as someone who thirsts for solving problems and is willing to build structures from nothing when it comes to coding. Moreover, with my side hobbies revolving around task automation via Selenium and TensorFlow, I believe I can be a great asset in helping 7Vals clients to achieve greater efficiency. With me they can focus more on what matters rather than wasting their valuable time on doing the same mundane tasks over and over again.

Lastly, throughout my times at LUMS, I have tried to achieve a balance between my academics and social life. I have played an active part in community service societies and played the role of an IT director in a leading science society at LUMS (Spades). Besides this, I would like to identify myself as a foodie who likes to try out new restaurants every day. So, if by any chance 7Vals party manager is having trouble deciding the best place to dine out. Do not worry, one of your employees would already have it covered.

Thank You.
